

What it Takes to Lead & Succeed in Environmental Protection

SWEP Annual Conference – April 13, 2017

LEADERSHIP VS SUCCESS

We each define in our own way based on our experience

PENNSYLVANIA ENVIRONMENTAL LEADERS

Ralph W. Abele (1921-1990)

John J. Audubon (1785-1851)

John Bartram (1690-1777)

PENNSYLVANIA ENVIRONMENTAL LEADERS

Rachel Carson (1907-1964)

Mira Lloyd Dock (1853-1945)

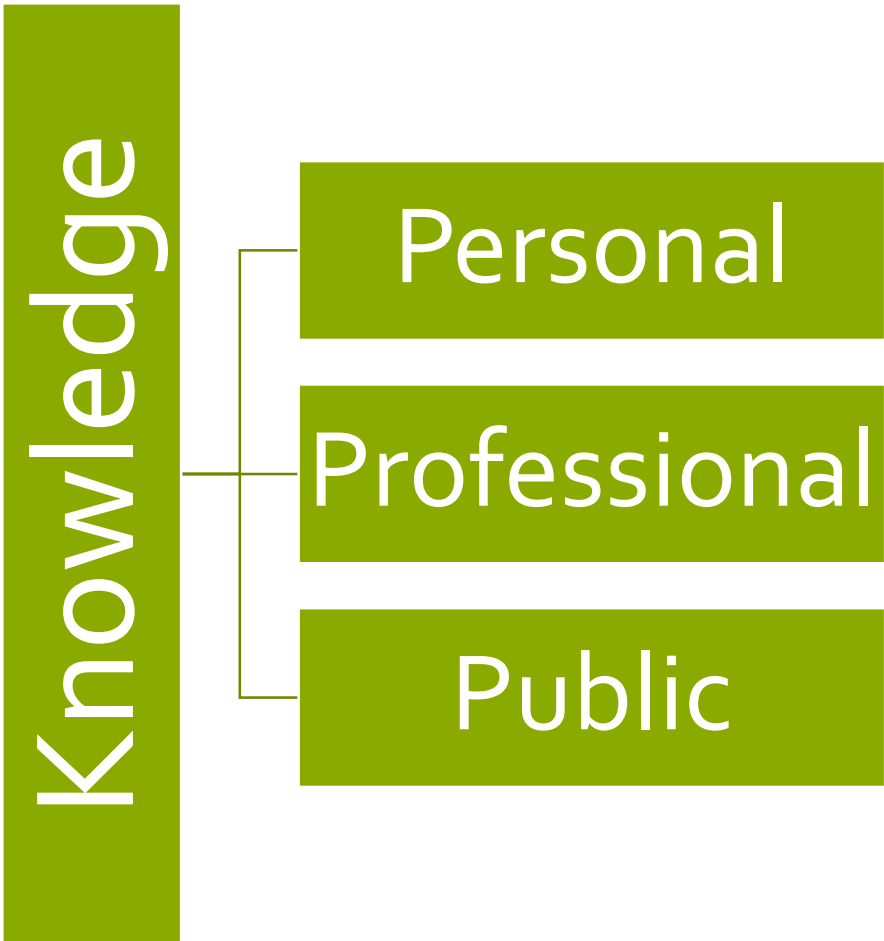

Maurice K. Goddard (1912-1995)

PENNSYLVANIA ENVIRONMENTAL LEADERS

William Penn (1644-1718)

Gifford Pinchot (1865-1964)

Joseph T. Rothrock (1839-1922)

SUCCESSFUL LEADERSHIP

The human race is challenged more than ever before to demonstrate our mastery, not over nature but of ourselves.

Rachel Carson

LEADING CHANGE

It is not what we have that will make us a great nation; it is the way in which we use it.

Theodore Roosevelt

A Survival Guide for Leaders by Ronald A. Heifetz and Marty Linsky, Harvard Business School, June 2002.

A HOSTILE ENVIRONMENT

- Operate in and above the fray
- Court the uncommitted
- Cook the conflict
- Place the work where it belongs

THE DANGERS WITHIN

- Manage your hungers
- Anchor yourself

WHY LEAD?

- To make a positive difference in the lives of others
- To give meaning to our lives
- To protect the diversity of our natural resources
