12th ANNUAL CONFERENCE

MAKING ENVIRONMENTAL CONNECTIONS

May 1, 2018

The Conference Center at Central Penn College
600 College Hill Road, Summerdale, PA 17093

Environmental Friend,

The Society of Women Environmental Professionals (SWEP) Capital Chapter's Twelfth Annual "Making Environmental Connections" Conference is shaping up for May 1, 2018 and we are offering Central Pennsylvania businesses, corporations and universities additional recognition through sponsorship opportunities.

This year's conference will be held at The Conference Center at Central Penn College (600 College Hill Road, Summerdale, PA 17093) and, as in previous years, the Making Environmental Connections Conference will bring together municipal officials, educators, scientists, technical experts, agencies, industry representatives, and students to forge networking opportunities for professionals and mentoring opportunities for students. Previous conferences have been great successes, with well over 100 participants – both men and women – attending talks on a variety of environmental topics including water, agriculture, transportation, economic development, planning, and environmental health. Your sponsorship will support our attendees and provide additional benefits.

Please consider taking advantage of the Twelfth Annual Making Environmental Connections Conference sponsorship, which is integral for our organization to provide a reduced registration fee for student attendees, funding for environmental student scholarship awards, as well as mentoring events throughout the year. Additional details and instructions can be found in the attachment. Plus, if you respond before April 13, 2018, we will include your logo in the printed conference materials!

We look forward to your participation in the 2018 Making Environmental Connections Conference.

Sincerely,
Planning Committee, SWEP Capital Chapter
